ISU Judging System

Season 2024-25

Warning: this is not the original document with rules and requirements. In case of doubts or misunderstanding, refer to the original documents.

The ISU Judging System (or the International Judging System (IJS)), occasionally referred to as the Code of Points (COP) system,[1] is the scoring system currently used to judge the figure skating disciplines of men's and ladies' singles, pair skating, ice dance, and synchronized skating. It was designed and implemented by the International Skating Union (ISU), the ruling body of the sport. This system of scoring is used in all international competitions sanctioned by the ISU, including the Olympic Games. The ISU Judging System replaced the previous 6.0 system in 2004. This new system was created in response to the 2002 Winter Olympics figure skating scandal, in an attempt to make the scoring system more objective and less vulnerable to abuse.[2]

- There may be up to two (2) jump combinations or one (1) jump combination and one (1) jump sequence.
- One jump combination or jump sequence can consist of up to three (3) jumps, the other up to two (2) jumps. - One full revolution on the ice between the jumps (free foot can touch the ice, but without weight transfer) keeps the element in the frame of the definition of a jump sequence. Jumps executed in a jump sequence receive their full value. Only two triple jumps can be repeated either in a jump combination or jump sequence.
- (removed Euler limitations from previous seasons)
- No quadruple jumps are allowed. Any single, double (including Double Axel) or triple jump cannot be executed more than twice in total. The same type of jump independent of revolutions can be included not more than three times in the Free Skating program.

Spins

There must be a maximum of two (2) spins of a different nature (abbreviation)

- one of which must be a spin combination with change of foot (minimum eight (8) revolutions), flying entrance is not allowed
- and one must be a flying camel (minimum six (6) revolutions), a change of foot is allowed but a change of position is not allowed (for season 2024/25)

Steps
